

William
Tucker/R2/USEPA/US
01/25/2005 03:55 PM

To "Stone, Antoinette" <stonear@bipc.com>
cc David.Weigert@usdoj.gov, mkm@spsk.com, Andrews@BlankRome.com, jotoole@saul.com,
cordejen@law.dol.lps.state.nj.us,
bcc

Subject RE: Kin-Buc: Consent Decree Distribution

As I think all of you are aware, EPA has approved and signed the decree and sent it on to DOJ for approval, so from EPA's perspective, no further changes are to be expected. It is not unusual, however, in my experience, for last-minute minor changes to be found necessary, upon which all the parties agree and for which written approvals may be sought. Obvious examples which come to mind are errors in cross-referencing, typos, or misnumbered sections or paragraphs.